Cinema in the Park

During the summers in Pittsburgh, Dollar Bank sponsors a program called Cinema in the Park. This is a series of free outdoor movies in various parks through the city. The movies all start at dusk and are a great family friendly activity in the city. Most of the movies are G or PG rated movies, meaning that they are appropriate for children.

These parks are located all over Pittsburgh and some of the parks have very special features. Grandview Park on Mt. Washington has a breathtaking view of Pittsburgh behind the outdoor stage and movie screen. One of the parks is Schenley Park in Oakland, which shows movies on Sunday and Wednesday nights, hosts a concert every Wednesday night from 7—8pm before the movie starts. In addition, because Schenley Park has two nights of movies, they have family movies on Sunday nights and then PG-13 movies after the concerts on Wednesdays.

For a list of what is playing (as well as other parks with Cinema in the Park) check out their website. The movie schedule for Schenley Park for June is:

* The Spark! Film Series returns in 2016 with a vibrant lineup of films that feature stories from diverse cultures to bring together Pittsburghers of all backgrounds and spark engaging cultural

So grab a blanket, pack some treats, and find the nearest park where you can enjoy a night at the movies under the stars!
Local Arts Festivals

All of these arts festivals have a variety of jewelry, glass work, pottery, paintings, sculptures, clothing, items for the home and garden, and more. And best of all: free admission!

Three Rivers Arts Festival (June 3rd to 12th) - Downtown Pittsburgh
The Three Rivers Arts Festival is one of the longest in the country. Spanning 10 days, this festival has plenty for the whole family. Enjoy the daily concerts, the kids’ art area, the food vendors, and the hundreds of artist booths in downtown Pittsburgh. Because this festival continues into Point State Park, you can also enjoy the Point Park Fountain! Try to go more than once because the artists change halfway through the festival!

Central PA Festival of the Arts (July 14th to 17th) - State College
This festival (known as “Artsfest”) is a little more than a 2 hour drive from Pittsburgh, but if you like Arts Festivals, this is a must see! The entire downtown area and a good deal of the Penn State campus are overrun with artists’ booths, making this the largest arts festival in the state. They have regular concerts on Atherton Street in the town center and water features for kids (old and young) to play in. While you are on campus at Penn State, make sure to cool down with a trip to the famous Creamery for their amazing ice cream. (Former U.S. President Bill Clinton frequently stopped by!) You can enjoy a cone and then pack as much as you would like in a cooler to bring home, they pack it in dry ice so nothing will melt on the trip.

The Art Festival on Walnut Street (August 27th and 28th) - Shadyside
This smaller, local arts festival has more than 150 artists from around the country to enjoy. Some of the streets in Shadyside are closed while this festival is taking place, so come early if you need parking. You can wander through the booths and in the large variety of stores lining the quaint streets of Shadyside. There are also a number of wonderful restaurants where you can relax after a day of appreciating the arts.

A Fair in the Park (September 9th to 11th) - Mellon Park
Only 2 miles from campus, this late summer arts festival offers 100 artist booths. In addition, there are musical performances throughout the festival and a children’s activity area presented by Pittsburgh’s Center for the Arts.
