Curricular Practical Training (CPT) Guidelines for School of Law

Curricular Practical Training (CPT) is defined as employment which is an “integral part of an established curriculum, including: alternate work/study, internship, cooperative education, or any other type of required internship or practicum which is offered by sponsoring employers through cooperative agreements with the school.” Source: 8 CFR 214.2(f)(10)(i)

As per federal regulations, CPT is a benefit extended to F-1 students only, and does require an offer letter prior to authorization. CPT can only be granted after a student has been lawfully enrolled on a full-time basis for one academic year (i.e. two full consecutive semesters). Exceptions to this can only be made for graduate students in a program which requires immediate practical training.

- Note: LLM students participating in the International Arbitration micro-credential program are eligible to apply for CPT during their one-year program under the immediate practical training justification.

CPT may be full-time (more than 20 hours/week) or part-time (20 hours/week or less). Use of 12 months or more of full-time CPT will prohibit the student from applying for OPT. Use of part-time CPT does not affect OPT eligibility.

The following guidelines apply to all School of Law students, and ensure that students can take advantage of opportunities that are appropriate to their academic program while protecting their F-1 status.

- CPT will be granted if:
 - Practical training is a requirement of all students to fulfill a degree requirement, or
 - A student will be awarded credit that will count toward degree requirements (e.g. through an internship or practicum course offered by the program), as listed in department/program literature.
- CPT employment may not delay completion of the academic program.
- CPT authorized for the fall or spring semester, or in the final semester of study may only be part-time. Exceptions will be made if the student is participating in a course that requires a full-time internship to fulfill a degree requirement.
- CPT authorized in the summer may be full-time. If summer will be the final semester of study, CPT will be authorized part-time, unless the student is participating in a course that requires a full-time internship to fulfill a degree requirement.
- Doctoral students may be eligible for CPT authorization for employment that will directly contribute to their thesis. OIS reserves the right to review the relationship between practical training experience and dissertation research.
- CPT is granted on a semester-by-semester basis, unless a longer length of time is needed to complete program requirements.

CPT and on-campus employment:

- Individuals can be employed on-campus and participate in CPT at the same time, provided they adhere to regulations for employment.
 - Note: students with academic appointments (TA, TF, GSRs) should check with their academic departments about any potential restrictions about off-campus employment while they participate in their academic appointment.

International Arbitration Micro-credential for LLM Students

LLM students may elect to participate in the International Arbitration Micro-credential program, which requires an internship experience. Since internship participation is required, LLM students may apply for CPT within their first year of study. LLM students must enroll in the requisite Externship credits and apply for CPT via My OIS.

Externship

Students are required to enroll for externship credit in order to be authorized for CPT. Generally, credit earned to satisfy CPT requirements must appear on the transcript during the term that the internship takes place.

Because the School of Law does not have summer enrollment, students with a summer externship must have the credit appear on the fall transcript. Students must enroll in these credits late in the summer by contacting the Law registrar for a permission number.

Independent Studies

Off-campus experiences that are not considered externships must be accompanied by Independent Study credits. Students must be enrolled in 1 or 2 credits of Independent Study which count towards the degree requirements.

How to apply for CPT

An application for CPT authorization should be submitted to OIS at least 2 weeks prior to the anticipated start date of employment.

Step 1: Meet with your academic advisor to inquire about your academic eligibility.

Step 2: Once you have obtained the position, request an offer letter from the employer (on company letterhead).

The letter must include:

- Your name
- The start date and end date of the internship (Keep in mind that CPT can only be authorized one semester at a time.)
- Position title
- Employment site address (street, city, state, and zip code).
 - This must be where you will be physically present for the duration of your employment
 - If there will be multiple locations, all must be listed
- The number of hours to be worked per week

Step 3: Submit a CPT request in My OIS.

- Normal processing time of a CPT request is five business days from the date OIS receives a completed e-form.
- Please remember that your academic advisor will receive an email requesting their approval for the practical training experience.
- Once your advisor has completed their section of the e-form, OIS will review and contact you via email once a determination has been made.
- Authorization will be granted for the employer, location, and dates specified on the new I-20.
 - Please contact OIS prior to commencing employment if any of this information will change.
- Once CPT has been approved, you will receive a confirmation mail, with an attached, digitally-signed Form I-20.
 - CPT will be authorized for specific location(s) and for a set length of time.
- You may not begin employment until you receive the new CPT I-20.
